To seek approval for institution of telephone surveillance on subject's residence in New York City. Letter for Attorney General attached seeking his authority. (C)

Background:

Class. & Ext. By SP4 JRM/cal
Reason: FCIM II, 1-2.4.2
Date of Review 4-8-91

Kahane is the charismatic leader of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) which has emerged in the last two years as the most militant and terroristic pro-Jewish organization in the U.S. He exercises absolute leadership over the organization and our sources have revealed their opinion that he passes personally on plans for the terrorist activities carried out by his organization directed against foreign diplomats of Soviet and Arab bloc countries and more recently against leftist and rightist organizations in the New York area. His place of residence is a well-guarded secret from other members of JDL and long-distance telephone traffic from his residence is considerable.

EX-103 REC-3 105-207795-86

Kahane has succeeded in keeping his place of residence unknown to the majority of even his closest lieutenants in JDL headquarters in New York where we have other sensitive coverage. Only through cooperation

[REDACTED] Long-distance toll calls charged to his residence in past months are well in excess of those normally attributed to the telephone traffic of a private residence and included calls to major cities in eastern and central U.S. New York Office has recommended telephone surveillance be instituted and has noted such coverage is feasible and can be made with full security assured. (C)

1 APR 15 1971

We have recently received information of Kahane's plans to lead a summer march on Washington which he hopes will equal the impact of the Poor Peoples' March on Washington in 1969, and requested coverage could provide essential and otherwise unobtainable information regarding (C)

We currently have 35 telephone surveillances in operation with nine additional awaiting installation, including one for the General Investigative Division. Approval of this coverage would not exceed our quota of 50. (S)

That telephone surveillance of the residence of Meir Kahane be approved. If approved, attached letter to Attorney General will be sent. (u)

This memorandum asks Attorney General approval for a new telephone surveillance on the residence of Rabbi Kahane, leader of the Jewish Defense League. It is recognized that such a surveillance would undoubtedly produce pertinent and valuable information for us; however, if Federal prosecution of Rabbi Kahane is taken at a later date, undoubtedly demand would be made and we would be forced to admit to this coverage. The Bureau would then be placed in the position of having to admit to a wiretap on a religious leader. In such case the news media would have a field day (a)

NOTE:

Memorandum W. R. Wannall to C. D. Brennan, dated 4/6/71, recommended approval for institution of telephone surveillance. Inspector Soyars' addendum pointed out installation of coverage would place Bureau in potentially embarrassing situation if subject made object of Federal prosecution in the future. The Director approved Inspector Soyars' recommendation against institution. (Original of memorandum attached)

The Southwest Jewish Press Heritage under date of April 2, 1971, Herb Brin, editor, carried the following editorial under the captioned title, Kahane:

"Rabbi Meir Kahane will speak 11 times in Los Angeles and San Diego on a five-day journey to the West.

"His group has opened headquarters on Fairfax Ave. (where a couple of years ago a few old men clobbered a bunch of Nazis who had come there to taunt Jews.)

"There are those who think that before Kahane there were no fighters for Jewish survival, that the struggle for Soviet Jewry wasn't an on-going passion until Mike King came along with his chain swingers and clubsters.

"Kahane can never say that he is not being given platform.

"Let him answer all the questions: his stand on Vietnam; his hanky-panky publicity organizations under assumed names; the bombings, and the filthy words hurled at wives of Russian diplomats--heroic deeds indeed.

"It might be well for our people to know that the struggle for Soviet Jewry does not begin nor end in a publicity nightmare cooked up by a Meir Kahane.

"And if a hero in the struggle does emerge, it will be a man or a woman or child in Russia who puts his name on the line and demands of the Kremlin oligarches: 'Let my people go!'"

JEWISH DEFENSE LEAGUE

On April 5, 1971, the morning edition of the San Diego Union carried an article concerning the fact that 300 people marched on April 4, 1971 (Sunday) from downtown San Diego to Balboa Park demanding that the Soviet Union release Jews who wanted to emigrate to Israel. Jewish community leaders waited for the group at the park and messages of support were read from the local Roman Catholic Bishop and the Director of the San Diego Ecumenical Conference.

The April 6, 1971, morning edition of the San Diego Union covered the appearance of Rabbi Meir Kahane at an airport news conference and also at the auditorium of Hoover High School the previous evening.

b7c A San Diego source advised on April 6, 1971, that postcards were mailed out to members of the Jewish community announcing the appearance of Rabbi Meir, Director of the Jewish Defense League, on April 5, 1971 at the University of California at San Diego Auditorium and at Crawford High School auditorium. The postcard was sent by unidentified individuals who signed themselves "concerned citizens". Source attended the open meeting at Crawford High School auditorium where Rabbi Kahane delivered a speech after first denouncing the so called leaders of the San Diego Community for not going along with his thinking. He was poorly received by the approximately 500 people in attendance and failed to answer all questions from the floor. He was accompanied by approximately 20 - 30 young people from the Los Angeles area which included [redacted] and [redacted] who were identified as Western coordinators of JDL. A local address for persons interested in JDL was furnished on a handbill as [redacted]

Source advised that [redacted] is a [redacted] with a deep interest in Middle East affairs.

[redacted] wanted [redacted] to speak to MEIR KAHANE absolutely alone and asked if [redacted] understood what he was saying. [redacted] replied yes - "about Holland?" [redacted] replied yes, about a certain individual. [redacted] asked, "You mean that guy - is not a member." [redacted] said yes and he hesitated to talk outright. He wanted [redacted] to tell KAHANE "that's what the $1,000 for the down payment for the apartment that we needed went to, and we need $2,500 to $3,000 more." [redacted] said he understood. KAHANE was not immediately available but [redacted] would see him later in the evening of 4/19/71, in Brooklyn, NY, and [redacted] will call back at 7 p.m. Whatever [redacted] wanted to discuss with KAHANE, he did not even want [redacted] to hear. The same informant reported that approximately 30 minutes prior to the foregoing conversation, [REDACTED] of the JDL, was in contact with KAHANE from Sinai, Israel, and informed him that he [REDACTED] and the rest of "them" were getting along okay but they need money. KAHANE asked him what they did with the $1,000 check he sent them. [REDACTED] replied, "We're going to have to get on a line that isn't tapped." However, KAHANE did not seem to care about this and [REDACTED] finally told him that the $1,000 went for a down payment on an apartment but they need $2,500 to $3,000 more to complete the deal. KAHANE was a little upset about this and [REDACTED] asked if he could at least send him $250 now so "they" can get food, etc., to live as "they" are broke. KAHANE agreed and he will send an American Express check on 4/20/71. [REDACTED] said a letter was sent to [REDACTED] (last name unknown) explaining things, however, KAHANE stated that the letter was vague and he does not understand things yet. [REDACTED] believed [REDACTED] understands things and KAHANE should ask him, which KAHANE agreed to do. KAHANE also told [REDACTED] that [REDACTED] is going over to Israel "within a week", expected to stay in Israel only a few days, and [REDACTED] would give [REDACTED] all the details when he arrives.

The NYO has noted that articles appearing in local press on 4/16/71 contain information that on 4/15/71 an explosion occurred at the Soviet Trade Delegation building in Amsterdam, Holland, and an American Jew (not identified) who had resided in Holland for a number of years, had been arrested in connection with this explosion. At the scene of the explosion, according to the press reports, a message was found, "Never Again! Let My People Go!"

It is noted that "Never Again" is the slogan of the JDL. It is also noted that disruption of relations, including trade with the USSR is one of the aims of the JDL to force the USSR to release Soviet Jews who desire to immigrate to Israel.

Due to the vagueness of the information furnished by [REDACTED], the NYO is not setting out the above information in LHM form in connection with the explosion in Holland on 4/15/71.

On April 9, 1971, [REDACTED] who has furnished reliable information in the past advised that Rabbi Meir Kahane, the leader of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) arrived in Los Angeles, California, on March 31, 1971, at Los Angeles International Airport via Trans World Airlines Flight 87. At the airport Kahane held a news conference and explained that he was in Los Angeles to conduct a series of speeches explaining the purposes of JDL and to enlist support for the organization.

Source learned that during Kahane's stay in Los Angeles he was staying at the Beverly Carlton Hotel, 9400 West Olympic Boulevard, Beverly Hills.

Source advised that at 9:00 p.m., March 31, 1971, Kahane spoke at Temple Stephen S. Wise, 15500 Stephen S. Wise Drive, Bel Air, California. Source stated that Kahane was the main speaker and spoke on the principles and philosophies of the JDL. He solicited funds and support for JDL and was well received by the approximately 700 persons who had paid a minimum of two dollars a seat.

Source stated that on April 1, 1971, at 11:00 a.m. Kahane spoke for nearly one hour in the free speech area at Los Angeles Valley Junior College, Van Nuys, California. Some 200 persons listened as he sought to explain the purposes of JDL. At one point he was disrupted by a small group of agitators who raised clinched fists and shouted "power to the people". This group had little effect and Kahane kept full control of the audience. Source added that there were approximately 15 JDL people acting as guards for Kahane.

Source added that at 8:00 p.m. in the evening of April 1, 1971, Kahane addressed approximately 500 persons at Temple Akiba, 5249 South Sepulveda, Culver City, California. Source stated that Kahane outlined the principles and philosophies of JDL and was well received.

Source stated that at noon, April 2, 1971, Kahane spoke for two hours in the open forum area at San Fernando Valley State College to approximately 300 persons, again explaining JDL's purposes and soliciting membership and support. Source stated that Channel 28, KCET was present and provided television coverage.

Source continued that on April 3, 1971, at 8:15 p.m. Kahane addressed a receptive audience of approximately 700 persons at Temple Beth Jacob, 9030 West Olympic, Beverly Hills, California. He, as in other talks, explained the purposes of JDL and asked for support.

Source stated that on April 4, 1971, at 10:00 p.m. Kahane again spoke as above to approximately 800 persons at Temple Leo Baeck, 1300 North Sepulveda, West Los Angeles.

He was well received and spoke of the purposes of JDL.

Source stated that on April 5, 1971, at 12 noon Kahane spoke at the Student Union Hall on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA). Source said that Kahane spoke of the purposes and philosophies of JDL and was well received. At one point an agitator sought to disrupt the speech, but was put in his place when Kahane stated "Sit down Arab."

During his speech Kahane announced that JDL members would participate in a peaceful demonstration on behalf of the Soviet Jews at the May Company, 6067 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, at 12 noon on April 7, 1971.

b7c Source stated that on April 7, 1971, approximately 25 representatives of JDL led by one [REDACTED] who source described as the West Coast Coordinator of JDL, did in fact stage a sit-in at the above mentioned May Company, lasting approximately one and one half hours.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

JEWISH DEFENSE LEAGUE

Source stated the main point of this demonstration was to protest against the May Company's arranging tours to the Soviet Union.

No arrests or violence attended this activity.

Source stated that Kahane traveled to San Diego during the late afternoon of April 5, 1971, and returned to Los Angeles late in the evening of April 6, 1971. Source added that Kahane departed for New York City, New York via air at 12:10 a.m. on April 7, 1971.

sentenced yesterday to 90 days in jail or a $500.00 fine for obstructing government administration during a demonstration on December 30, 1969, in front of the Soviet Mission on East 67th Street. According to the article, KAHANE's attorney, PHILIP EDELBAUM, said the sentence would be appealed.

The JDL is self-described as a militant activist group dedicated to freedom, democracy and Jewish rights.

On April 21, 1971, [REDACTED] 19th Precinct, New York City Police Department (NYCPD) advised that a demonstration and rally on behalf of Iraqi Jewry was held in front of the Iraqi Mission to the United Nations, 14 East 79th Street, New York, New York, on the evening of April 20, 1971. Approximately 100 people participated and Rabbi MEIR KAHANE addressed the group. According to [REDACTED] several demonstrators attempted to break the police barricade in defiance of a police order which resulted in eight arrests, including MEIR KAHANE, who was charged with riot, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Activities

Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) advised that on March 17, 1971, Rabbi MEIR D. KAHANE, JDL, was scheduled to lecture before members of the congregation of Temple Beth Shalom, East Mount Pleasant Avenue, Livingston, New Jersey. The lecture was scheduled for 8:15 PM; however, Rabbi KAHANE did not arrive until 9:05 PM. and started to speak at 9:10 PM. The audience consisted of approximately 450 people, mostly middle-aged. Rabbi KAHANE was apparently accompanied by four or five "security" men in their early 20's. A few of those "security" men arrived before he did. Rabbi KAHANE spoke in a calm, precise manner, presenting a pleasant and neat appearance.

NY 157-5767

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

He recounted a brief history of the Jews in the United States and throughout the world since World War II, and attempted to describe how Jews have been content to receive the sympathy and consolation of the world rather than obtain definite results. Drawing a parallel to the Negro problem in the United States and their militant measures initiated to obtain equality, he stated that Jews have now started to take similar measures. He indicated that for many years Jews have been willing to accept verbal consolation and compassion with very little results. Referring to the recent militant action of the JDL, Rabbi KAHANE indicated that this was the reason more Soviet Jews were allowed to leave Russia, in recent weeks than ever before. He felt it was about time Jews received their priority.

He maintained that, "If one comes to slay you, slay him first". He indicated that the JDL gives young Jews a cause and a reason to want to be Jewish. He thought the present leaders of Russia were weak and that through internal pressure within Russia, and by the action of Jews outside of Russia, that country could be forced to permit Soviet Jews to leave Russia for Israel.

Rabbi KAHANE said, "There is nothing wrong with violence if there is no other way for a Jew to live." He maintained, however, that violence should not be used if the change desired could be obtained in a nonviolent form. He advised that next Sunday, on March 21, 1971, there would be a march on Washington, D. C., to draw attention to the plight of Soviet Jewry. Rabbi KAHANE claimed that in New York, the JDL is frequently contacted by Jews in various sections of New York City when protection is needed because of intimidation by other groups. He advocated that Jews should demonstrate for anti-racism and felt that Jewish organizations should initiate legal maneuvers to obtain objectives.

When the lecture was terminated, Rabbi KAHANE conducted a question and answer period. Many of the individuals asking questions indicated they agreed with many of his aims but were against violence. He said he advocated certain measures to help pressure Russia into permitting Jews to leave for Israel. These measures included demonstrations, boycotting Russian goods, and all business with Russia. Also, he stated that all types of exchange, such as cultural, scientific, economic, progress, etc., with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) should be terminated. He stated the JDL hoped to obtain the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all Russian officials in the United States and harass them through telephone calls and by following them, hoping by these means to pressurize their government into releasing Soviet Jews.

The Rabbi terminated his lecture by stating that his organization was small but determined and that they were looking for new members. He said the JDL had a few non-Jews in the organization and welcomed them for members. The JDL, he stated, was definitely a nonpolitical organization and did not care whether a member was leftist or rightist, as long as he was interested in the goals of the JDL.

On March 30, 1971, [REDACTED] advised that the subject did not appear at Temple Beth-El, 100 Sheridan Road, Highland Park, Illinois, as scheduled. Instead, the General Counsel of the JDL, BERTRAM ZWEIBON, spoke in his place, stating that KAHANE was unable to attend due to his incarceration in New York.

On April 1, 1971, [REDACTED] advised that MEIR KAHANE left for California, on March 31, 1971, and will not return to New York City, until April 8, 1971. According to [REDACTED] KAHANE can be reached in California at (213) 653-6471, in care of [REDACTED] (Phonetic). According to [REDACTED] in the New York office of the JDL, did not know if KAHANE was actually staying with the California JDL. (S)(u)

On page 26 of the April 13, 1971 issue of the "Daily News", there appeared an article captioned, "JDL IN BATTLE ON MUGGERS". This article reflected that the subject spoke to 300 persons in the auditorium of Public School 103 in Boro Park, Brooklyn, New York. The article advised that plans to post nightly patrols to cut down on muggings in Boro Park, were launched by the JDL at the urging of the subject. After his talk, the subject led a march to the Boro Park Station House where 300 JDL supporters were kept behind barricades and the subject was invited inside where he announced his plans to police officials. Upon emerging, the subject stated the police would work with the JDL patrols.

In April, 1971, [REDACTED] advised that the subject was scheduled to speak on April 14, 1971, at Wayne State University and later at the University of Michigan, at 8:00 PM. (S)(u)

The April 19, 1971 issue on page 3 of the "Daily News", contained an article captioned, "BOMB RIPS TEMPLE EXPECTING KAHANE". According to this article, a bomb ripped through the Jewish Center of West Orange, New Jersey, early yesterday. While police were trying to determine a motive for the blast, it was determined that Rabbi MEIR D. KAHANE, head of the JDL in New York, was scheduled to address the Men's Club at 8:00 o'clock last night. Because of the blast, the speech was cancelled. It was also reported there was a large demand for tickets for KAHANE's talk and that emotions were running high over his appearance.

On page M-1 of the April 21, 1971 issue of the "Daily News", there appeared an article captioned "THREE COPS FELL; SEIZE KAHANE AND SIX MARCHERS". This article stated that the police seized militant Rabbi MEIR KAHANE and six other men last night after three cops were bowled over at a demonstration in front of the headquarters of the Iraqi Mission to the United Nations.

According to the article, before his arrest, the subject had told a "mass rally on behalf of the Iraqi Jewry" that the JDL would employ the tactics it has used to harass Russian diplomats against Iraqi diplomats beginning next week.

The source also advised that the car which the subject was riding was a leased car which was leased in the name of Jewish Organization for Youth. (u)

The Jewish Organization For Youth is a tax exempt foundation affiliated with the JDL.

MEIR D. KAHANE

621670

On May 3, 1971, [REDACTED] a source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that MEIR D. KAHANE, Director of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) of New York City, New York, spoke at the Collingwood Avenue Temple, Toledo, Ohio, before members of the Toledo, Ohio Jewish community on April 28, 1971. This speech was sponsored by the Collingwood Avenue Temple Brotherhood as part of a semi-annual lecture series provided by Mr. and Mrs. ALFRED BILLSTEIN. Questions asked of MEIR KAHANE after his speech appeared to be pre-arranged so that no controversial subjects would arise [REDACTED]

"The Blade", a daily Toledo, Ohio newspaper of general circulation, published an article in the April 29, 1971 issue entitled "Violence Can Be Helpful, JDL Founder Contends." In this article, MEIR KAHANE stated in part that "violence is always bad but sometimes necessary".

Rabbi KAHANE said the JDL had not been involved in several bombing incidents "however, we have applauded enthusiastically those who have". Rabbi KAHANE asserted that moderate Jews could not get planeloads of Jews out of Russia until now and that the difference has been JDL action.

Rabbi KAHANE said the JDL is not "respectable" that "respectability is the last refuge of frightened people". He contended that too many Jews have gauged their actions on what non-Jews will think and say.

RE: MEIR D. KAHANE

DECLASSIFIED BY SP2 TAP/CJ/OG
ON 2/11/82 C#200871
304,54

On April 27, 1971, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, as well as a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, were in attendance at a public appearance by Rabbi Meir Kahane at Beth Jacob Synagogue, 1223 College Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, sponsored by Beth Jacob Brotherhood.

The audience was estimated at approximately 700 persons, and Kahane spoke from approximately 9:20 P.M. to 11:00 P.M.

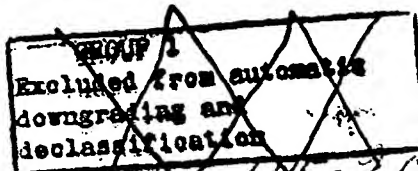

The confidential source and the Special Agent of the FBI ascertained the following:

The evening program commenced with the playing of the National Anthem.

The speakers were introduced by Rabbi David Stavsky of the Beth Jacob Synagogue. Leonard Quinn was introduced as President of Beth Jacob Brotherhood. Bernard Polloch, an Ohio State University student, spoke briefly regarding the mezuzah as a symbol of Jewish identity and defiance of oppression. Ben Greenblatt, identified as a former inmate of a concentration camp, talked about his treatment in the concentration camp while a ceremony involving lighting memorial candles in commemoration of six million Jews, who died in concentration camps, was undertaken.

Following that introductory program, Rabbi Meir Kahane, the leader of the Jewish Defense League (JDL), delivered his speech.

Kahane indicated that during World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. was aware of the extermination of Jews in concentration camps, but his response to requests by American Jewish leaders to bomb rail lines leading to Auschwitz was sympathy, not action. The President's statements were taken at face value, but if Jews had chained themselves to the White House then, Jewish lives would have been saved.

For 47 years, according to Kahane, the world has ignored the plight of the Soviet Jew, but because of the actions of the Jewish Defense League (JDL), the problem was made front page news and everyone was aware of the problem. President Nixon is not interested in Jewish problems, but because of JDL actions, the Government is worried. Kahane stated that violence is evil, but it is sometimes necessary. Kahane also stated that a Jewish spirit survives because of a Jewish fist.

Jews need to be loved, according to Kahane, but when Israel attacked the Beriut Airport and destroyed a few planes, they lost the sympathy of the world. Kahane stated that Jews do not need sympathy, they need to live. Jews need to achieve self respect, but one does not get it by asking for it.

As much as possible must be done for the Soviet Jews, who have cried out for help for 54 years. The American Jewish Leadership is bankrupt since all they are worried about is their own positions in society. As soon as the bomb went off at the Russian Airline Office in New York City, Jewish leaders ran to Washington, D. C. and told Government leaders to get the JDL people if they were responsible.

Kahane stated that he speaks on four to five campuses a week, and he sees Jews changing from the radical left to the radical Jew. These young Jews finally have a cause to fight for themselves.

The JDL wants to instill two things:

1. Love of Jews.
2. Jewish pride.

In the 1920's, a Jew spoke to Jewish youth and said, "If you are being beaten, hit back - if you are being shot at shoot back." This is the type of pride Jews need in this country.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RE: MEIR D. KAHANE

Jewish education must take precedence over everything and Jewish money must be spent for this purpose.

Jewish identity centers must be created on the campuses of the United States.

In 1953, the death of Stalin saved hundreds of thousands of Jews from death in Siberia, but who is to say that the Russian leaders would not try to do this again. Soviet Jews would not wait for us; they are desperate.

Kahane stated that he recently traveled to a world Jewish conference in Brussels, Belgium, not to disrupt the conference, but Kahane knew they were not going to do anything about the Soviet Jews; thus he made his statement.

Kahane stated that the following actions are necessary against the Soviets:

- 1.. Embargo and boycott of Soviet products.
2. Ban travel to Russia.
3. Stop cultural exchange program since Soviets use this for propaganda purposes.
4. Boycott of firms who deal with Russia.
5. Begin campaigning to ban USSR from participating in olympics.
6. Legal harassment of Soviet diplomats, such as recent 100 phone calls each day to five Soviet diplomats homes, whose private numbers were obtained by JDL.

Kahane stated that the world would not give a damn about the Soviet Jews, until it becomes a world problem.

The JDL must organize non-violent civil disobedience. Jews went to Selma, Alabama and everywhere else to help the Negro and others, but when the Jew had a demonstration in

RE: MEIR D. KAHANE

Washington, D. C., it was 1300 Jews arrested for sitting in the street. Only Jews will fight for other Jews; thus we must have a non-violent show of togetherness.

Kahane stated that the JDL is opposed to bombing.

Following Kahane's speech, he answered a few questions from the audience. Kahane responded to a question as to whether JDL was opposed to bombings entirely. Kahane stated that the JDL does not bomb places, but when the only way the world listens is when you do something like bombing, then the JDL will back that means.

Kahane responded to a question about how sit downs help the Soviet Jews by saying that every action helps to awaken the conscience of the world.

Kahane stated that young Jews find "right on" Jewishness in the JDL, something they have been seeking.

In the past 15 months, there have been 44 JDL chapters formed on 44 different campuses. Kahane stated that the Berkley California campus accepted the JDL and a recent speech drew 1500 people to see Kahane.

On April 19, 1971, a Special Agent of the FBI obtained a leaflet announcing the speech by Rabbi Meir Kahane, which leaflet was available to the general public in the Ohio Union Building, Ohio State University.

A copy of that leaflet is attached herewith.

By ROBERT MILES

The hands tell as much about the man as his words.

The hands, constantly moving, pointing a finger and pounding the air, symbolize his agitation.

His words confirm it.

The man is Rabbi Meir Kahane, president of the Jewish Defense League (JDL), who spoke in Columbus Tuesday at a program of commemoration for the six million Jews who were killed during World War II.

"Sometimes the Jewish spirit survives because of a Jewish fist," he said. As the Jewish Bible says, 'There is a time for war and a time for peace.'"

Time for peace past

Rabbi Kahane believes the time for peace is past.

"Thirty years ago we shared in the holocaust by our silence. We knew of Auschwitz, and we could have saved hundreds of thousands of lives. But we sang and danced and enjoyed the good life while 12,000 Jews died everyday."

President Roosevelt told the Jews that he was sympathetic, but there was nothing he could do, he said, and for years when nothing was done about Jewish problems, the Jews accepted that.

"Now, suddenly, there are Jews who won't accept it," Rabbi Kahane said.

'New day dawning'

"For half a century we tried the other way," he said, but now there is "a new day, dawning for Jews."

The issue of Soviet Jewry is beginning to save American Jews because there is an awakening of young Jews, Rabbi Kahane said.

"Suddenly they are flocking to us by the thousands" and although the American Jewish Congress and other moderate groups may have more members, the JDL has youth.

Rabbi Kahane said, "When JDL people get arrested, it's not a game and it's more than just talk. This impresses young people."

The rabbi himself has been arrested several times. His appearance in Columbus was sandwiched between two New York court appearances.

"There are a lot more Jews who support JDL than Jewish leaders would like to think. In the last 15 months, we have started 44 chapters on 44 campuses across the country," he said.

The phenomenal growth of JDL has come on the heels of continued protests for freedom for Soviet Jews — protests inspired, for the most part, by JDL.

But Rabbi Kahane is not satisfied with what has been done.

Concrete program urged

"Don't think that we have the luxury of time," he said. "A concrete program must be developed to free Soviet Jews."

Rabbi Kahane said he would include in such a program a campaign to end all cultural exchanges with the Soviets and an attempt to ban the USSR from the Olympic Games.

"What's good for South Africa is good for the Soviets," he said.

The rabbi sees the legal harassment of Soviet diplomats as one of the JDL's key weapons.

"If every single week, five Soviet homes are chosen for 100 calls a day, this creates protests. Only when the Soviet Jews' problem becomes a world problem will anyone give a damn," he said.

After the speech, at a party in his honor, Rabbi Kahane explained why he thinks he can succeed.

The Russians have two main problems, he said. One is China and the other is demands at home for goods that we have in the West. The Russian want trade and a better relationship with the West, and that's more important to them than holding Soviet Jews, he said.

Looks belie militance.

Rabbi Kahane's appearance belies his militance. A short, unimposing figure dressed in an ill-fitting brown sport coat and yarmulke makes him appear as an aging Jewish schoolboy, but his forcefulness has caused a vast split in the Jewish community.

He said, "I did not come to Columbus to make Jewish leaders happy."

Threats from "snarling bigots" precede Rabbi Kahane wherever he is scheduled to speak and Columbus was no exception.

Rabbi David Stavsky of the Beth Jacobs Synagogue where Rabbi Kahane gave his speech said he received six to eight days of continuous harassment with threats to both himself and the synagogue to deny Rabbi Kahane an appearance.

"I wouldn't have believed

10 days ago that this would happen," Stavsky said. "And these threats come from the nicest guys and most terrific people you could meet."

Personal sacrifices

In a quieter moment, Rabbi Kahane reflected on the personal sacrifices of being head of the JDL.

"The worst part is that there is no private life," he said. "I can't be at home with my four children as often as I would like."

"My wife worries of course, because of the constant threats, but she is really the heroine of the whole thing."

And if JDL can free the Soviet Jews, then what?

"My fondest wish would be for there to be no more Jewish problems so the JDL could fold up," Rabbi Kahane said. "But when my kids ask me 'What did you do then, when it was happening,' I hope I can say I did what I could."

ReNYairtel to Bureau and Norfolk, 5/10/71.

For the information of Norfolk, scheduled appearance of Rabbi KAHANE at Old Dominion University on 5/13/71 was cancelled due to the disruption arising out of the arrest of KAHANE and other JDL functionaries on the late evening of 5/12/71, in connection with federal firearms violations.

In response to inquiry from NBC-TV affiliate in Norfolk, Virginia, on 5/13/71, [REDACTED] of JDL headquarters, advised that cancellation at Old Dominion was, in fact, because of KAHANE's arrest on the previous evening and that although this talk would probably be rescheduled, no definite date had been set as of that time.

NYO will remain alert to rescheduling of KAHANE's travel within Norfolk Division and will promptly advise Bureau and Norfolk of such scheduled travel.

Kahane and Black Leader Promise Unity

By CHARLAYNE HUNTER

Rabbi Meir Kahane, head of the Jewish Defense League, ceremonially broke bread yesterday with Dr. Thomas Matthew, head of a black self-help group, in the latter group's Harlem factory yesterday, and the two men pledged a "brotherhood relationship" between their organizations.

Dr. Matthew had invited Rabbi Kahane to come to Harlem.

The invitation came a week after the militant Jewish leader formed an alliance with Joseph A. Colombo Sr., the reputed Mafia figure who founded the Italian-American Civil Rights League. That alliance was to oppose what was called harassment by the Federal Government.

The invitation was prompted, Dr. Matthew said, by fighting between black and white students—the latter members of the J.D.L.—at Brooklyn College on May 4. Rabbi Kahane spoke at a rally just before the fight broke out.

The meeting yesterday—in a clothing factory of the National Economic Growth and Reconstruction Organization, at 123d Street and St. Nicholas Avenue—was billed as a "peace conference" and focused on plans to minimize black-Jewish tensions. The Brooklyn incident, which led to the barring of the rabbi from the campus, was not discussed, Dr. Matthew said.

Attitude's the Thing

"At this point," he declared, "we've got to reach something that transcends that, and that is the entire meaningful attitude between black and Jew. And this, I think, is a far more important thing rather than re-hash things which have happened. What has happened has happened. The purpose of this meeting is to make sure that those things don't happen again."

Dr. Matthew's plan involved sending a commission from his organization to the Soviet Union to bring back a report "for the guidance of our own people in joining with the Jewish people throughout the world who are asking for the Jews to be able to go to Israel."

The group hopes to leave June 15, although permission from the Russians has not been obtained.

Dr. Matthew said he would ask the Soviet Union to allow Jews to leave and go to a neutral country, rather than Israel, for a two-year period, during which time, he hoped, the Arab-Israeli dispute would be settled.

Dr. Matthew said that he and Rabbi Kahane had discussed "the matter of policy" of the Jewish Defense League "towards black people," and had a "clear-cut understanding that the J.D.L. is not antiblack."

As for the Jewish organization's harassment of Soviet officials, Dr. Matthew said:

"We have made it clear to the J.D.L. that the Soviet citizens are guests in our homes—the United States of America—and they will not be harassed by anybody as individual citizens walking the streets."

Escorts on Request

He said the black organization would, on request, provide "courtesy escorts" to any Soviet personnel—particularly women—who "wish to go to a store or anywhere."

Rabbi Kahane, who described yesterday's meeting as "a great turning point" in ethnic relations, said he was "willing to see what possibilities lie" in Dr. Matthew's plan. He was adamant however, on the harassment issue.

"We are not about to simply say for the sake of brotherhood that we are ready to give in on areas of principle," the rabbi said. "A Soviet diplomat is not our guest. He is not a mere tourist. A Soviet diplomat here, if we can help it, will not walk these streets no matter who is there, no matter who wants to help him."

The rabbi said he found it "reprehensible that South African diplomats are not given the same discourtesy by blacks."

The news conference was preceded by a ceremonial breaking and eating of bread by the two men as they stood in front of a lavish kosher buffet prepared by a Jewish caterer.

Officials at Brooklyn College obtained a court order yesterday calling on Rabbi Kahane to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for violating a State Supreme Court order barring him from the campus.

An aide to the college president said in an affidavit that the rabbi returned to the campus at Bedford Ave and Avenue H last Monday with several followers.

Justice Anthony J. DiGiiovanna signed the order directing the rabbi to appear before him for a hearing May 25. The justice had granted a temporary restraining order to the college on May 10.

Re NY airtel to the Director dated 4/12/71.

On 5/6/71, the subject was the main speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Jewish Liberation Organization on the campus of the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle Campus (UICC).

On 5/18/71, [REDACTED] advised that approximately 150 persons attended this rally and that KAHANE gave his usual JDL speech concerning the apathy of the main population including the "Jewish Establishment" toward those Jews who are "struggling to be themselves." He stated that the Jewish establishment was afraid to become involved in the support of anything or anyone which might hurt their image. The prognosis for the future was presented as "bleak" due to the current economic situation and the unwillingness of both Jew and non-jew to become involved with an unpopular cause. KAHANE stated that "violence is an evil thing, yet at times it is an abomination not to use violence." Examples of several biblical heroes were presented to illustrate this point. The speech ended with a pitch to start a JDL chapter on the UICC campus.

The source was unable to provide any further information concerning this appearance.

This investigation is continuing in Chicago. Further appearances of the subject in the Chicago area will be reported as they occur.

Rabbi Meir D. Kahane continues to function as National Director of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) with headquarters at New York City, New York.

The JDL, founded in 1968, is composed primarily of young Jewish militants who consider themselves defenders of "Jewish Rights". Demonstrations attempting to dramatize the Jewish problem in Russia and similar demonstrations against Arab establishments have often resulted in violence. Rabbi Meir Kahane, founder and National Director, has stated publicly on many occasions that violence is sometimes necessary to accomplish the aims of the JDL.

The following local prosecutive matters are pending against Kahane as a result of his activities in connection with the JDL, since April 8, 1971.

1) Disorderly Conduct arrest as the result of the sitdown demonstration on the evening of June 10, 1971, in the vicinity of the Soviet Mission to the United Nations, Third Avenue and 67th Street, New York City. It should be noted that the arrest of Kahane and over a hundred others on this occasion was pursuant to arrangements previously made between the JDL and the Police Department that persons wishing to be arrested would sit briefly in the street and thereafter be arrested for Disorderly Conduct only. There has been no disposition of this charge.

2) On the evening of April 21, 1971, Kahane and approximately 100 JDL supporters demonstrated in the vicinity of the Iraqi Mission to the United Nations, 14 East 79th Street, New York City. In the course of this demonstration, in defiance of a Police order, Kahane and others attempted to break Police barricades and storm the Mission.

Kahane and twelve others are presently under indictment in Federal Court for the Eastern District of New York, charged with violation of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 922 and 924 and Title 36, Sections 5861 and 5871 arising out of the illegal possession of certain firearms. Kahane is presently at liberty under $25,000 bond with trial set down for July 6, 1971.

On June 14, 1971, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that [REDACTED] of JDL, had attempted to contact an individual known to the source only as [REDACTED] (phonetic). According to the source, although unable to contact this individual, [REDACTED] left word for him that the JDL would not have a detailed "time framework" for the Washington program before the end of the week at the very earliest. The source indicated that he took this to be a reference to the JDL's participation in the events of Jewish Identity Week at Washington, D.C., June 20-27, 1971.

The JDL is self-described as a militant activist group dedicated to the struggle for democracy, freedom and Jewish rights.

The same confidential source also noted that on June 14, 1971, [REDACTED] member of the JDL Youth Board, attempted to contact Mr. William Moyers through the office of his publisher. Although an unidentified individual at the office of Mr. Moyers' publisher indicated there would be an attempt to furnish [REDACTED] request to Mr. Moyers, there was no certainty that this could be done. According to the source, [REDACTED] indicated that he was attempting to make contact with Mr. Moyers in order to arrange an appointment for Rabbi Meir Kahane at whose request [REDACTED] was acting.

On June 11, 1971, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Larry Fine, Executive Director of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) at New York City, engaged in a conversation with an individual known to this source only as [REDACTED] (last name unknown) (LNU).

Under discussion on this occasion were the events of the evening of June 10, 1971, at which time the JDL, under the direction of Meir Kahane, held a meeting at the auditorium of Hunter College at Lexington Avenue and 68th Street, New York City. Thereafter, there followed a brief demonstration at the Iraqi Mission to the United Nations (UN) and the Soviet Mission to the UN. At the latter demonstration, approximately 130 JDL members or sympathizers were arrested for disorderly conduct.

It should be noted that on June 10, 1971, this same confidential source advised, even prior to the demonstrations mentioned above, Rabbi Meir Kahane had worked out a deal with the Police Department of New York City under which JDL demonstrators would be arrested for sitting down in the street and charged only with disorderly conduct. This arrangement, arrived at following a conference with a police official and advance notification to the police, made it possible for the JDL demonstrators to avoid a charge of conspiracy and to assure that there would be no violence. Charges against the demonstrators, according to the source, were limited under this agreement, as mentioned above, merely to disorderly conduct. It should be noted that this is the first such arrangement attempted by the JDL in connection with any of its demonstrations at New York City.

The confidential source advised that [REDACTED] in discussing the Hunter College meeting of June 10, 1971, stated that Rabbi Kahane's speech on that occasion "was terrible, the worst he has ever made anywhere". [REDACTED] (LNU), with whom he was speaking, characterized Kahane's speech as rambling and disjointed in every respect. [REDACTED] stated he had never heard the Rabbi so absolutely disgusted with anything, and [REDACTED] replied that Kahane had good reason to be disgusted with the turnout. [REDACTED] noted that the turnout of only about 300 individuals "was lousy" and much below the expected audience.

[REDACTED] according to the confidential source, stated that many people are getting used to the Russian trials and just cannot be moved. He further noted that the small turnout and interest was commented upon on the Channel 2 news program, and that the JDL certainly does not need that kind of publicity. [REDACTED] also stated that Kahane is at a very low ebb and feels that the leadership of the JDL is completely lacking. [REDACTED] volunteered the opinion that the entire blame should be placed on the chapter chairmen as they are "not worth a ... (vulgarity)". [REDACTED] was in agreement on this point. [REDACTED] stated that everyone of the chapter chairmen were told time and time again to get the membership out for the meeting but failed as usual.

According to the confidential source, [REDACTED] stated that the Italian-American Civil Rights League (IACRL) had agreed to assist the JDL in any event. According to [REDACTED], the IACRL would be undertaking certain printings free of charge, as well as the preparation of literature and press releases. [REDACTED] stated that he still did not like the tie-in with the IACRL, to which [REDACTED] replied that the only thing the JDL was giving to the IACRL in return is a respectful image. [REDACTED] was in disagreement on this point, and commented that some day the JDL will have to pay a price - a large price - for this affiliation. [REDACTED] felt that this might be so but right now the IACRL is helping and the JDL "needs all the help it can get". Both agreed that the JDL was faced with the problem of motivating people.

Meir D. Kahane

Internal Security - Nationalistic Tendencies -
Jewish Defense League (JDL)

b7c
On June 17, 1971, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that an unidentified individual, quite possibly with the communications media, was in contact with one [REDACTED] who identified himself as the [REDACTED] of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) at the headquarters of the [REDACTED] in New York City. The source further advised, however, that it was his belief that the name, [REDACTED] was merely a pseudonym employed by an individual whose true identity was undetermined by the source.

In the course of this contact, the unidentified individual questioned [REDACTED] concerning the plans of Meir Kahane, Director of JDL and, in particular, concerning Kahane's plans for travel to Israel in the future.

The unidentified individual was advised that Rabbi Meir Kahane's United States passport had been revoked in view of pending criminal litigation, but that when the passport is restored, Kahane will go to Israel. It was stated that Kahane, however, will not stay continuously in Israel but will visit JDL headquarters in New York perhaps monthly to run and oversee the activities of that organization.

The confidential source could furnish no additional information concerning this matter at that time.

The JDL, founded in 1968, is composed primarily of young Jewish militants who consider themselves defenders of "Jewish Rights". Demonstrations attempting to dramatize the Jewish problem in Russia and similar demonstrations against Arab establishments have often resulted in violence. Rabbi Meir Kahane, founder and National Director, has stated publicly on many occasions that violence is sometimes necessary to accomplish the aims of JDL.

MEIR D. KAHANE

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on June 10, 1971, that Rabbi Meir D. Kahane, Head of the Jewish Defense League (JDL), was to speak at the Temple in West Orange, New Jersey, on Sunday evening, June 13, 1971.

The JDL, founded in 1968, is composed primarily of young Jewish militants who consider themselves as defenders of "Jewish Rights." Demonstrations attempting to dramatize the Jewish problem in Russia and similar demonstrations against Arab establishments have often resulted in violence. Rabbi Meir D. Kahane, founder and National Director, has stated publicly on many occasions that violence is sometimes necessary to accomplish the aims of the JDL.

On June 14, 1971, [REDACTED], West Orange, New Jersey, Police Department, advised that Rabbi Kahane was the principal speaker at the West Orange Jewish Center, 300 Pleasant Valley Way, West Orange, on June 13, 1971. The Men's Club of the West Orange Jewish Center sponsored Kahane's appearance.

Rabbi Kahane was scheduled to appear at the West Orange Jewish Center on Sunday evening, April 18, 1971. During the early morning of April 18, 1971, the West Orange Jewish Center was extensively damaged as a result of a bomb explosion. No information concerning suspects has been developed by the West Orange Police with respect to this explosion to date.

MEIR D. KAHANE

b7c [redacted] advised there was indecision on the part of the Men's Club of the West Orange Jewish Center with regard to again inviting Kahane as a speaker and they decided in favor of it since they had previously committed themselves. They agreed to Kahane's appearance on June 13, 1971, but under the condition that this would not receive any publicity. The West Orange Police agreed to offer coverage of the Center on June 13. Only four hundred persons would be permitted in the audience.

[redacted] said that the West Orange Police had approximately 45 police officers inside and outside of the West Orange Jewish Center on the evening of June 13, 1971.

[redacted] West Orange, New Jersey, Police Department, advised he was inside the Jewish Center during the aforementioned appearance of Rabbi Kahane. Only 400 persons were permitted in the audience and a number of persons were turned away at the door.

Kahane appeared at about 9:00 PM, escorted by several young persons dressed in green uniforms and all wearing the Star of David. These youths handed out JDL literature.

The entrance fee was $7.50 per person.

Rabbi Kahane spoke for about two hours, which included a question-answer period. Although Kahane received some intermittent applause, the audience generally was not enthusiastic. During the question and answer period, a number of persons left. Kahane pleaded with these persons to hear him out. There were times during the evening when Kahane was jeered by members of the audience.

During the evening, Kahane sought new membership and asked those interested to register at the tables in the rear of the room. [redacted] observed very few persons approach these tables at the evening's end.

MEIR D. KAHANE

Kahane mentioned that he obtains his finances primarily from membership dues and donations. He indicated he would accept support from any source who came to his aid. He praised Joseph Colombo, reported New York Mafia leader, for coming to his aid, and in the same breath denounced the Rabbis and the wealthy Jews, such as those who live in the plush suburbs of West Orange, who offered him no support. He related that the wealthy Jews should help their own people such as the poor Jews in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, New York. He mentioned that these same wealthy Jews will support other causes, many of which are non-Jewish, rather than to offer support to the poor Jews, or to offer his support.

He criticized those Jews who felt they should avoid becoming involved in wrong acts, stating that you cannot operate like that today. He said today you must draw public attention or fade away. He cited the Negro revolution and methods applied by Negroes to draw attention and get things done.

He criticized the wealthy West Orange Jew who wants the poor Jews in Brownsville to integrate with the Negroes in their schools and neighborhoods, but who reside in all white areas and whose children go to all white schools. According to [REDACTED] remarks such as these did not hold much appeal for those in the audience.

Kahane dwelled on World War II and the fact that the Jews did not stand up for their rights against the Nazis. He criticized the Jews in other countries, particularly those in leadership for not coming to the aid of the depressed Jews in Germany. He criticized former President Roosevelt for not permitting the immigration to the United States of some 900 Jews who escaped Nazi Germany and who had to remain in Europe.

He made reference to his day camp for the youth. He said the best thing a Jewish parent could do would be to send his or her child to this camp where the youth would get the best training and education possible. He indicated they would come out better persons.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

MEIR D. KAHANE

He said that after he is cleared of his criminal charge in New York City, he will live six months in Israel and six months in the United States. He remarked that every Jew should live in Israel.

He stated that non-Jews hate Jews and that the Jew should in turn hate the non-Jews. He does not believe in inter-faith relations.

The above remarks did not appeal to the audience.

He said that Jews are highly intelligent and could do anything they desired. He wanted the Jews to stand up for themselves and fight for one another. He cited the JDL efforts against the Soviets in the United States as an example. He said that although he does not take credit for the JDL being responsible for the emigration of many Jews from the Soviet Union in the recent past, that their efforts undoubtedly helped their situation.

He commented that "If one comes to slay you, slay him first".

b7c
During the evening, a collection was made but [REDACTED] stated that the donations were by and large small change. Very few bills were passed.

[REDACTED] said a tall, thin, young, bearded man handled the questions and appeared to select the questions offered to Kahane.

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED] advised the evening passed without any one single incident.

During the course of a surveillance of MEIR KAHANE, National Leader, JDL, and two other individuals on the evening of 6/24/71, the operator of the vehicle in which KAHANE was traveling made a complaint to a representative of the Metropolitan Police Department. In substance, the driver, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] claimed that the occupants of a Bureau car were Special Agents of the FBI who had pulled the driver from his automobile and struck him in the face. [REDACTED] requested the police officer to arrest the occupants of the Bureau car who were in the proximity. [REDACTED] was informed that the alleged offense was a misdemeanor, not subject to arrest unless committed in the officer's presence or the subject of a complaint filed before the United States Attorney's Office. b7c

The above was obtained from [REDACTED] MPD, following a conversation between the driver of the vehicle in question and the officer at 16th and Q Streets, NW, at 11:10 PM. SAs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] who were in the process of conducting a surveillance of KAHANE, informed the police officer that the allegations were completely false. Officer [REDACTED] determined that, in addition to [REDACTED] and KAHANE, [REDACTED] Jewish Telegraph Agency, National Press Building, was an occupant in the car.

Meir D. Kahane
Internal Security - Nationalistic Tendencies -
Jewish Defense League (JDL)

On August 19, 1971, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that he had ascertained that Meir Kahane, head of the Jewish Defense League (JDL), plans to travel to Israel in the near future in furtherance of the program of the JDL.

The JDL, founded in 1968, is composed primarily of young Jewish militants who consider themselves defenders of "Jewish Rights". Demonstrations attempting to dramatize the Jewish problem in Russia, and similar demonstrations against Arab establishments have often resulted in violence. Rabbi Meir Kahane, founder and National Director, has stated publicly on many occasions that violence is sometimes necessary to accomplish the aims of JDL.

According to the confidential source, at the present time Kahane is planning to depart the United States September 12, 1971, most probably aboard an El Al Airlines flight for Israel. Kahane intends to be in Israel for the commencement of the High Holy Days on September 20, 1971.

The source advised that it is Kahane's intention to remain in Israel for a period of one month or more, but that at the present time Kahane has no intention of remaining in Israel permanently, since he feels that his permanent settlement in Israel would lead to a decline in the JDL program

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on August 31, 1971, that on September 12, 1971, at 5:00 pm, a farewell rally will be held at the Manhattan Center, New York City for Rabbi Meir D. Kahane, National Director of the Jewish Defense League (JDL) who will travel to Israel. After the rally a motorcade will accompany Kahane to the John F. Kennedy Airport, New York City.

Larry Fine, Executive Director of the JDL and a cantor in the Bronx, New York, will take charge of the JDL in Kahane's absence.

The JDL founded in 1968, is composed primarily of young Jewish militants who consider themselves as defenders of "Jewish Rights." Demonstrations attempting to dramatize the Jewish problem in Russia and similar demonstrations against Arab establishments have often resulted in violence. Rabbi Meir D. Kahane, founder and National Director, has stated publicly on many occasions that violence is sometimes necessary to accomplish the aims of the JDL.

Source learned that the new slogan for the JDL is "Every Jew buy a .22."

Kahane Threatens Russians Will Die If Prisoner Does

Special to The New York Times

JERUSALEM Sept. 27 —

Rabbi Meir Kahane, leader of the militant Jewish Defense League, asserted here today that Jewish militants would kill two Soviet diplomats somewhere if Miss Silva Zalmanson died in a Soviet labor camp.

A Soviet court sentenced Miss Zalmanson last year to 10 years' imprisonment for participation in a plot to hijack a Soviet airliner. She is the wife of Eduard S. Kuznetson, one of two Jews sentenced to death in a Leningrad trial in connection with the plot. His sentence was commuted to a 15-year prison-camp term.

Miss Zalmanson's uncle, Avraham Zalmanson of Bat Yam, Israel, told newsmen that she had contracted tuberculosis and developed ulcers in prison and was dangerously ill.

"If anything happens to Silva Zalmanson or another Jew," Rabbi Kahane said at a news conference, "Soviet diplomats throughout the world will be open targets for Jewish militants." He recalled a slogan, "two Soviets for every Jew," adopted by the Jewish Defense League when it was harassing Soviet diplomat in the United States, and said the militants intended to carry it out if necessary.

Rabbi Kahane said he himself was not urging Jewish militants to take action because he was under a suspended five-year sentence in the United States for illegal possession of firearms and explosives. The court ordered him to refrain from acts of violence.

The rabbi, who arrived in Israel last week as a settler, said he would not do anything that could embarrass Israel. He said he would spend some months abroad directing Jewish Defense League Affairs.

Rabbi Kahane, who is Orthodox, founded the league for self-defense, in 1968 in the wake of reported attacks on Jewish residents and storekeepers in the Crown Heights section of Brooklyn.

The league has demanded that the Soviet Government permit Jews to emigrate freely to Israel. Rabbi Kahane was arrested during the league's

To advise of State Department request for information regarding visit of leader of JDL to Washington, D. C. For information.

Michael Tretola, Office of Security, Department of State, telephonically contacted Bureau, this date, to advise that Secretary Rogers is most concerned with plans by Meir D. Kahane, leader of the militant JDL, to seek a personal meeting with Rogers in the near future. Tretola asked if Bureau could advise Department of State immediately of Kahane's plans for travel to Washington from New York. He was advised that Kahane is not under physical surveillance.

[REDACTED] the Bureau felt that physical surveillance of him was not advisable at this time for the purposes noted. Tretola was advised that any information we received which would indicate imminent travel from New York to Washington by Kahane would be furnished immediately to him.

New York Office was alerted to Secretary Rogers and State Department concern with this matter and instructed to furnish any information obtained along these lines immediately so Bureau could alert Department of State.

[REDACTED] and this information has been furnished to Department of State.

News media indicated State Department has refused to grant Kahane appointment with Secretary of State but our sensitive coverage has revealed plan by Kahane to come to Washington despite this announcement.
